

Crescit Eundo
“It grows as it goes”

By E. P. Sinone

Let's create a seal to commemorate the pilgrims on Romero Street
One of smaller scale
Of similar idea
To that of the great seal of the State of New Mexico
That adorns a two foot wide entrance into the Palace of the Governors

Let us first take inventory of those things collected at the 2006 138 ½ Romero Street Site to be used in a design for this great seal:

1. Old Houston lumber prison bricks
2. Silver lace
3. A three legged rubber horse
4. Two train track nails
5. Chili ristra pods
6. 33 rpm recording of Mendoza's Solamente
7. One Mexican tile
8. Chunks of adobe
9. Large rock
10. Several small pieces of splintered wood
11. Photograph of Jenny Romero, smiling sweetly, seated on a chair, dog on lap, in front of the Living room window that frames an existing mountain top

However, before this seal be built, let us consider as a motto
“Ellos Viven”
“They lived”
before the new train came to town.

Museum As Muse
A writing workshop presented with funding from the Institute of Museum and Library Services at the Palace of the Governors, September 2006